

MAJOR DANIEL IS NOT TO RETIRE

Report Concerning Him Seems Not to Have Any Foundation to Rest On.

THOMAS F. RYAN'S POSITION

Not Believed to Desire Senatorship—Opposition to Acker.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—The story which has been printed in one or more of the Washington papers recently, and which has appeared in several of the papers of the North, being sent out from this city, to the effect that Senator Daniel contemplated retiring from the Senate and public life on the conclusion of his term in 1911, is not credited by Virginians here. It is impossible to find a man to whom Senator Daniel has made a statement to the effect that he had set a time when he would leave public life, and it is not believed he has fixed upon such a time.

The story went on further to say that Thomas F. Ryan, who has taken the place of J. Pierpont Morgan as a king of finance, has his eyes on Senator Daniel's seat, and would make a try for the senatorial toga when Major Daniel cast it aside. While it is impossible to say how such a weird story originated it is not given the slightest credence by those who are well informed regarding affairs in Virginia.

Mr. Ryan's Position.

In addition to its being extremely improbable that Senator Daniel has made up his mind to quit public life at any set time, it is almost as certain that Mr. Ryan has no desire to go to the Senate. He has never indicated that he had political aspirations, and it is not believed he wishes to divide his attentions to money-getting. While he retains his citizenship in Virginia, though a resident in New York, and while he votes the Democratic ticket, Mr. Ryan has not in the past manifested great interest in either State or national politics. He was delegate to the Democratic convention at St. Louis last year from Virginia, but he has never been given any authority for such a statement, so far as is known. Those most familiar with the sentiment of the people of Virginia believe that it would be hard to find a candidate willing to oppose Senator Daniel, if one were wanted. The Senator has a hold on the voters of Virginia that it would be next to impossible for any man to break. The fact that he was the unanimous choice of the Democrats of the State for re-election last year demonstrated his popularity. His career in the Senate has reflected credit not only upon himself, but upon the people who honored him with a seat in that body. He is one of the few Virginians in public life who has a national reputation. An effort to defeat him would probably fail, and as for his contemplated retirement, that is more credited than that other story sent out from here some months ago to the effect that John S. Wise, for years a citizen of New York, had it in mind to try to come to the Senate from Virginia in case the Legislature was Republican at any time in the future when a senator was to be chosen.

Opposition to Acker.

It seems that ex-Senator John Acker, of Rockingham, is not having much success in his home county so far as his candidacy for the Republican nomination to the Lieutenant-Governorship is concerned. The primary was held on Saturday, and so much and such strong opposition to Acker was developed that it is said he will have to hand his strength very closely to carry an instructed delegation to Roanoke. The significant thing about this opposition to him is the fact that it is headed by D. S. Lewis, a brother of Judge L. L. Lewis, who will be the Republican gubernatorial nominee. In case of the nomination of Lewis and Acker, the first of which is assured, the lack of harmony which would mark the inception of the campaign would not make for the success of the ticket. Former Representative Jacob Yost, of Staunton, has written a letter, in which he says Acker is not of great enough calibre for the Lieutenant-Governorship. Mr. Yost also says in his letter that United States Marshal Brown Allen, of Staunton, and Deputy Marshal Fulwiler, as well as Mr. Acker, do not want to have a real Republican party in Virginia, and that they are their organization will fall to the ground. It is said the Republicans want a man from Southwest Virginia for second place on the ticket. Robert W. Blair, of Wytheville, was nominated to this position four years ago, but he had no statutory age. But he is four years older now, and eligible so far as age is concerned.

Fund-Seeking Letter.

Postmaster Funkhouser, of the Harrisonburg postoffice, has forwarded to Postmaster Cortelyou a copy of State Chairman Stimp's fund-raising letter recently sent to all the Federal officeholders in Virginia. In his letter, which accompanies the document, Mr. Funkhouser calls attention to the fact that the begging missive was sent to every employee of the Harrisonburg office. The name of R. A. Fulwiler, United States deputy marshal, appears on the letter as secretary of the committee. Mr. Stimp, not being a Federal officeholder, is not within reach of the Department of Justice, or any other department of the government, but it may be that Fulwiler will be "dealt with" to use the old-time expression.

Mr. Funkhouser is a candidate for re-appointment. He has broken with the Acker faction in Rockingham. He is little beloved by the Lewis faction, as the present "down-and-out" condition of that wing is largely due to his stand in the past. He seems to be trying to play a lone hand, and he evidently expects this reporting of Stimp to be his last bow. It was stated at the Department of Justice that, while an examination had recently been made of the accounts of George B. Bowden, of Norfolk, clerk of the United States Court of the Eastern District of Virginia, a report had not been made by the examiner. Intimations had been made that Bowden was a crook, but that nothing was known accurately, and will not be known until the examiner's report is filed.

Rural Letter Boxes.

To facilitate a more accurate handling of the mail by rural free delivery carriers, the Postoffice Department is arranging for the numbering of all rural letter boxes, which, under the regulations of the department, are entitled to service, and authorizing the delivery by rural letter carriers of ordinary mail matter of all classes, beginning with the first box reached by the carrier after leaving the postoffice, and a new box erected subsequent to the original numbering will be assigned the next consecutive number in use on the particular route. Boxes on newly established routes will not be numbered until sixty days after the commencement of the service, in order that ample time may be allowed for all prospective patrons to secure boxes.

REV. I. M. MERCER RESIGNS CHARGE

existed between us so long. I desire to hear grateful testimony to the Christian courtesy and co-operation which you have extended to me, and to assure you that your property as a church and as individuals shall have a warm place in my heart and a tender interest in my prayers through the coming years.

"Praying that God may send you an under-shepherd after His own heart I remain,

"Faithfully and affectionately yours,

(Signed) "I. M. MERCER."

Congregation to Meet Thursday.

A committee, consisting of the deacons and seven other members, was appointed to consider the resignation and to take action in regard to it in a called meeting, to be held in the church to-morrow night. It is confidently expected that Dr. Mercer will be asked to reconsider his resignation, although it is believed to have been offered in good faith and not merely tentatively.

On December 1st, Dr. Mercer was completed the eleventh year of his pastorate of West View Church. He came to this pastorate from Pendleton Street Baptist Church in Greenville, S. C., where he remained four years. Previous to that time he had charge of a church in Alexandria, Va.

He is a popular pastor, well loved by the members of his congregation, and is a source of regret to all that he has seen fit to resign his present pastorate. Dr. Mercer is a Richmond man. He attended Richmond College, from which he was graduated with the A. M. degree, afterwards taking his ministerial course in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. He is well known in Richmond and in this State, and is widely connected here.

To Continue in Ministry.

He stated that he had no idea of giving up his ministerial work, but would continue in the service of God and his church.

West View Church is young, having been established for only fifteen years. The first pastor was Rev. W. P. Hines, who continued in charge for four years. It was a colony of Grace Street Baptist Church, and the house of worship was first located at the corner of Cary and Meadow Streets. From there it was moved to its present location at the corner of Grove Avenue and Meadow Street, in the heart of growing and popular West End.

The church numbers a membership of three hundred and seventy-five. It has been very liberal in the matter of missions, giving last year enough to support a foreign missionary, and a total of over $1,000 for benevolences.

OIL TANKS HIT BY LIGHTNING

Loss Suffered By Texas Company

Augmented During Storm

Yesterday.

(By Associated Press.)
HOUSTON, TEX., July 25.—The fire in the Texas company's tanks at Humble oil fields is practically extinguished to-night. There is still a bit of oil in the bottom of the eleventh tank, but this, it is thought, will be burned out before morning. The charred remains of eight persons have been found and the search still continues.

Tanks Struck By Lightning.

(By Associated Press.)
BRAUMONT, TEX., July 25.—The loss suffered by the Texas company at Humble oil field by the burning of approximately 2,500,000 barrels of oil was augmented this afternoon at Sour Lake, where lightning struck a tank containing 130,000 barrels belonging to the same company and another tank containing 100,000 barrels, all of which will be a total loss. The fire is still burning, and the danger of spreading is obviated by the isolation of the two tanks struck. A conservative estimate of the loss is fifty thousand dollars.

GRAND JURY IS HARD AT WORK

quity, and they are looking forward to results with much interest.

Doubtful Situation.

No man can conjecture with accuracy what the outcome will be, but there is an impression more or less widespread that there will be some indictments.

Those who are guessing on this line are not risking their judgment as to who will be the unfortunate ones. The addition as a rule seem to desire that if there has been any wrongdoing it shall come out, and the members of the jury are evidently determined to see that there shall be no "whitewashing." Not since the Smith-Spotwood contest for Commonwealth's Attorney, some twelve years ago, has there been so much public interest in matters relating to a primary election in Richmond, and nearly every one seems to think that the grand jury will do its work thoroughly.

The case of Mr. Jackson Wise, who is out on bail under the charge of improperly registering one Culbertson and then making him clerk of the election at the Third Precinct of Monroe Ward, has been continued in the Police Court and will not be disposed of until the report of the grand jury is in.

NO WHITEWASH SAYS BONAPARTE

The Inquiry Into the Bennington Explosion Will Be Thorough.

THE VESSEL IS FLOATED

It Will Be Towed to Mare Island. Six Wounded Are Likely to Die.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, when asked today for a statement on the subject of the disaster to the Bennington, promised the public that there would be no whitewash and that so far as the service itself was concerned he would make a scapegoat of no one.

Saved the Boat.

Captain Drake, in a telegram from San Diego to the Navy Department, has made a report upon the condition of the gunboat Bennington. His telegram follows:

"Constructor Evans has made preliminary examination of Bennington inside. He found no leaks through hull plating. All leaks through sea valves and broken pipes stopped. Present plan to disboard due to shifting of boilers B and D and some free water below berth deck in intercostal spaces. Will pump this water out by hand pumps, then trim every keel, transfer unnecessary equipment to life boats, and secure outside hull divers, secure boilers, clean up living quarters, then, if constructor is satisfied, tow Bennington with Iris to Mare Island. Fortune escorting. Wounded remain in charge of naval surgeon until transferred to naval hospital at Mare Island. Surgeons McCollough, Kindelberger and Lieutenants Mitchell and Latimer reported last night, and will relieve civilian doctors as soon as possible.

(Signed) "DRAKE."

Bennington Floated.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—A telegram received at the Navy Department overnight from Captain Drake, states that the Bennington was floated at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and is now alongside the wharf.

Six More May Die.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 25.—The funeral of Ensign Perry will be held at St. Paul's R. Church in this city, at 10 A. M. Friday. The body then will be forwarded to Stockbridge, Mass.

There is little hope that the burial chapter of the Bennington incident is finally closed, for half a dozen badly injured sailors are lingering between life and death, and for some of them there is little chance for their recovery. Six men who are battling bravely for life are receiving every comfort and assistance that skill and sympathy can give. The removal of the Bennington to a position alongside a pier will facilitate the examination of her interior.

The Divers Arrive.

The supply ship Iris, from San Francisco, arrived this morning. She has on board divers and diving outfits, and the work along the bottom of the gunboat will be begun as soon as the Iris can get alongside the condemning board began on the stores taken out of the flooded aft state-room. The useful stuff being put on the supply ship. All of the equipment, including the ammunition and batteries, with the exception of the main gun and mounts, will be transferred in order to lighten the Bennington sufficiently to permit the making of repairs that will allow the vessel to be towed to Mare Island.

MISS ENTSINGER DIES FROM HER WOUND

Feeling Against Ford Runs High. He Has Not Been Captured.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, VA., July 25.—Miss Lydia Entsminger, the second victim of Grover Ford's shooting near Denmark, June 28th, died last night, after a hard struggle for life. Since the tragedy she has had no use of her lower limbs, her entire body being paralyzed from the waist down. An operation by distinguished surgeons failed to secure relief. The extent of the tragedy is emphasized by the death of this fourteen-year-old girl, caused by the jealous rage of the stricken father, Charles H. Entsminger. Ford is still at large, and his whereabouts unknown, notwithstanding the reports of his capture. The feeling against him in the neighborhood where the crime was committed is so intense that threats of summary punishment are frequently heard, should the murdered be caught.

Small Boy Badly Hurt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SMITH'S CROSS ROADS, VA., July 25.—Bruce Barnes, youngest son of Mr. W. L. Barnes, was thrown from a horse yesterday, and very seriously hurt. Little Bruce is about ten years old, and was out attempting to ride an unbroken colt, when he was thrown against a large tree, and was not found until about an hour later in an entirely unconscious condition. Dr. Marrow was immediately summoned.

OBITUARY.

Gordon Lewis Mitchell.

Gordon Lewis Mitchell, infant son of George C. and Elsie Bates Mitchell, died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at his parents' home, No. 407 North Thirty-second Street. He was five months and seven days old, and was the only child. The funeral will take place from the residence at 11 o'clock this morning.

Caroline Virginia Easley.

Caroline Virginia Easley, infant daughter of William H. and Minnie A. Easley, of No. 213 South Cherry Street, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from the house.

D. M. Switzer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HARRISONBURG, VA., July 25.—D. M. Switzer, for five terms Mayor of Harrisonburg, and formerly a member of the House of Delegates, died at his private cottage at Rawley Springs this afternoon after four days' illness of cholera morbus. His death had been expected only since morning.

Mr. Switzer was 76 years old and a native of this county. He was elected mayor in 1880 and served for four successive terms. After a term in the House of Delegates he was again chosen mayor and retired in 1900. He was principal owner of Rawley Springs, a popular summer resort, twelve miles west of Harrisonburg. He is survived by his wife and four children.

John Porter.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JANHOE, VA., July 25.—Squire John Porter died about 2 o'clock this morning at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. David Speaker, who resides in Carroll county, one mile south of Ivanhoe. Mr. Porter was born here July 7, 1822, in the house now occupied by Captain Riley Lawson, on River Street, near the Furnace.

"Uncle Johnny," as he was familiarly known, is survived by several children, grand and great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mary Brown.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
AMHERST, VA., July 25.—The burial of Mary Brown took place in the cemetery here yesterday, the service being conducted by Rev. A. P. Gray, of the Episcopal Church. The death of Mrs. Brown occurred on Sunday morning. Her death was due to old age, she being eighty-four years of age. She leaves four children: Mrs. B. Brown, of New York; Mrs. Blue, of Hagerstown, Md.; Mrs. James Patterson, of Lynchburg; and Mrs. George Dearborn, of Amherst. For a number of years past she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Dearborn, at this place.

James M. Barbee.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MANASSAS, VA., July 25.—Jas. M. Barbee, one of the best known men in this county, and well known throughout the State, died at his home near Brentsville this afternoon. He was a member of Ewell Camp, C. V., and served throughout the Civil War as Lieutenant in Company A, Fourth Virginia Cavalry. He was for a number of years county commissioner of revenue, and filled many other offices of public trust in this county.

Roy W. McPherson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., July 25.—Roy W. McPherson, assistant manager of Bradstreet Agency here, died today. His remains, accompanied by his wife, a bride of four weeks, were forwarded to Marion to-night. He married a daughter of Judge Schultz, of Marion, and had been here but two days from his bridal trip when taken sick.

Mrs. Henley's Funeral.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., July 25.—The funeral of Mrs. Ida D. Henley took place from her late residence here this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The pall bearers were her four brothers: Messrs. J. B. C. Spencer, Edward Spencer, H. G. Spencer, R. L. Spencer and T. H. Gaddy, Spencer Lane, C. C. Branch and Carter Cowles. A large crowd attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, assisted by Rev. D. T. Merritt and Rev. J. B. Herrell. The interment was in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

DEATHS.

KITCHEN.—Died, at the residence of his son-in-law, J. C. Miller, 620 South Pine Street, G. M. KITCHEN, in the seventy-third year of his age. Mr. Kitchen's early life was spent in Petersburg, Va., which place was a familiar figure, being superintendent of the Petersburg Cotton Mills, until the failure of the firm in 1888, after which he moved to his farm in Chesterfield county. He was a man that was loved and respected by all that knew him, especially for his hospitality and friendliness. His health has been bad for some time, and two weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis, from which he never rallied. He is, from which he never rallied. His funeral took place from the Laurel Street Methodist Episcopal Church MONDAY at 12 o'clock, and his body was taken to Petersburg and buried in the family section in Matson Cemetery.
